FORMAT & RULES

- Men's intermediate football and hurling competitions have five teams. Each team will play everyone once. Group games will be 20 minutes a half.
- Camogie and women's intermediate football competitions have three teams. Each team will play everyone twice. Group games will be 20 minutes a half.
- Women's and men's senior football competitions have four teams. Each team will play everyone once. Group games will be 25 minutes a half.
- 2 points for a group game win.
- 1 point for a group game draw.
- 0 points for a group game loss.
- The top two teams from in the group progress to the final.
- If teams finish with equal points in the group stage, the tie will be decided by the following means in the order specified:
 - Scoring difference (subtracting the scores against from the scores for).
 - Highest total score for.
 - Where only two teams are involved - the outcome of the previous meeting of the two teams in the competition.
 - Scoring average - divide total score against into total scores for.
- If a team is disqualified or retires during the group stage, the team's played games will stand and their unplayed games will be awarded to the opposing teams.
- All finals will be 30 minutes a half.
- If a final ends in a draw, extra time will be played. If extra-time ends in a draw, the following will be used to decide a winner:
 - Penalties for football - five each followed by sudden death, if required.
 - 45-metre frees for camogie - five each followed by sudden death, if required.
 - 65-metre frees for hurling - five each followed by sudden death, if required.
